Swedish Breakfast

The first Swedish Breakfast of the season will be Memorial Day weekend, on Saturday, May 29 from 8am-12pm. Reservations are not required, but they are highly-encouraged and can be made by calling 715-228-2951.

The Swedish Breakfast is an order off the menu event. The traditional Swedish favorites that we serve include Swedish pancakes, which are a thin buttery pancake, similar to a crepe. These go great with fresh maple syrup, or the popular Swedish lingonberry. Of course, there is the more familiar Swedish Meatball as well. Ours features both pork and beef as well as a special arrangement of spices. One of our less familiar specialties is Kroppkakor, which is a potato dumpling filled with side pork, this item can be served either boiled or fried and comes topped with a gravy. We also have some traditional Swedish bakery available including, Grandma Olga's Rye Bread, Kringlor, Lingonberry Cookies and more! You can experience all of these favorites this season as you join us for a delicious breakfast on the farm! The Ultimate Swedish Breakfast which features a choice of Swedish pancakes or waffles, ham or Swedish meatballs, fried potatoes and fruit salad is $9.50.

Where's Your Cookbook?

By Brittney Clauson-Semrow

The question that has been asked of me for years now. My desire to produce a cookbook of recipes that we use for the dinner shows as well as my Swedish favorites and other recipes, is something that I have been trying to finish for quite some time.

Each winter when the show season is over and it's quiet, I revisit the project and each year once I open it up I'm inspired to take it in yet another direction making it perhaps the longest running project that I have yet to complete. But folks, I think this year is it!

When I opened the project to try and finish what I was so close to completing last year, I was disappointed with the formal composition I had created. I mean who needs another chocolate cake recipe? But what if I used my stories, experience and knowledge to talk about why you needed this chocolate cake recipe? And what if I shared more history behind some of the dishes especially the traditional Swedish ones, and what if I shared anecdotes, wrote about the show and our family? Then I would have a project that was more than just another cookbook, it would be a glimpse into my personal life and the narrative would share stories along with recipes. You could use it to cook out of but also read it for entertainment and after all isn't that what I'm in the business of anyway?

So here's the scoop, I'm trying, really trying to finish this project and am so excited to make it into more than just a cookbook by sharing with you my experience, history and some personal stories. I have the printer lined up and just waiting for my manuscript. So now while my baby sleeps, I'm writing, writing, writing. I'm feeling pretty confident that when this project is finally complete, you will be very pleased with it and we can all say it was worth the wait!

Baby News!

Cody and Michelle Clauson are excited to announce the birth of their first baby.

Edwin William Clauson was born Wednesday, February 24 at 7:58pm. Edwin weighed 8lbs 4oz and was 21 inches long. Everyone is doing well and enjoying lots of family time together.
